

Are your cats' safety and health threatened by:

- Neighbourhood bullies?
- Busy roads or wild woodland?
- Straying too far, or getting trapped?
- Contracting diseases or harbouring parasites?

Do you want to give your cat the freedom of your garden but not beyond?

Now, there is a simple but effective solution!

Katsecure

This innovative fencing system allows you to secure your garden elegantly and compassionately, confining your cat's wanderings to the relative safety of your own garden.

This is not as impossible as it sounds, nor indeed costly.

We can supply estimates based on pictures and measurements emailed to us or by carrying out a garden survey. We offer an installation service. To maintain high quality standards, we do not use independent installers. The Katsecure system is also available to purchase as a DIY kit for self-installation by customers

Katsecure is an innovative extension piece that can easily be fitted to existing garden fences and walls.

Katsecure works by positioning two wooden or plastic poles onto existing, or new, garden fences or walls. The poles work by rotating when touched, denying cats the necessary grip to attempt climbing over the fence. This simple mechanism prevents the cat from gaining the "pawhold" it needs to scale and jump over.

Katsecure

The elegant and compassionate way to keep your treasured cat in . . .

. . . or your garden gremlins out!

Katsecure . . .

secure from invading . . .
. . . cure for straying

Secure from bullies?

Your cat's potential bullies come in all shapes and sizes, other cats (especially un-neutered marauding ferals), unfriendly dogs, foxes, and garden loving neighbours who regard cats as pests.

Don't be afraid to let your cat enjoy the security of your garden. With Katsecure protection you can keep these dangers at bay.

Secure from traffic?

Road traffic accidents are the number one killer of cats. They are particularly vulnerable at night, when they are easily dazzled by headlights. Even cats out and about during daylight hours, are prone to running blindly across the road in front of oncoming traffic. Some cats in urban areas do become streetwise and learn to avoid traffic, but many thousands more do not.

Don't let your cat be one of them. Keep them secure in your garden with Katsecure protection.

Secure from straying?

Containing cats has many advantages. Statistics show that on average restricted cats live longer than those allowed to roam at will.

Road traffic accidents, violent encounters with dogs, becoming locked in outhouses, territorial fights are just a few unpleasant events that can be avoided. Also, cats that socialise with others outside their family have more chance of exposure to AIDS and parasites.

Katsecure offers your cat the protection it needs from today's dangerous world.

Our solution is . . .

- Humane. Does not hurt cats.
- Elegant. Unobtrusively fits in with your garden surroundings.
- Flexible. Adaptable to any garden configuration (trees, sheds, storage passageways, etc).
- Comprehensive. All gardens may be surveyed and a bespoke design agreed.

Variety of mounting systems (on top, internal, staggered). Fits to different types of fencing and walls.

An explanation of the Katsecure mounting schemes . . .

Katsecure offers a number of different installation options, depending on the degree of containment required and the agility level of the cat. With the choice of wooden or plastic poles, the Double Pole System is recommended for most breeds, offering extra security for the more agile and adventurous cat – both those trying to get out and those trying to get into your garden.

No one knows a cat like its owner!

Once installed, the Katsecure system needs very little maintenance and can be removed and taken with you if you decide to move house.
